

Volunteer Application Form
Annual CARPHA Health Research Conference (CHRC)
Guyana, April 27-29, 2017

Volunteering at the CARPHA Health Research Conference is a fun and fast paced job that consists of over (8) hours of service in exchange for free registration at the meeting. Priority is given to students attending Universities in Guyana. All volunteer shifts will take place on Thursday, April 27 2017 with the possibility of a shift on Friday, April 28, 2017. If you cannot work Thursday, please do not apply.

After basic training, volunteers will be setting up the conference, preparing registration packages and checking-in registrants. It is important to note most of the time would be spent on your feet. Talking with many people and controlling the crowd. The time goes by very quickly and volunteers end up meeting new friends & having a lot of fun.

Submission Deadline March 20, 2017

There are limited volunteer opportunities in exchange for registration fees.

Requirements

- You are required to be pre-registered (paid) to attend the annual meeting at the time of application or you would not be considered.

Full refunds would be issued for confirmed volunteers on Saturday, April 29, 2017 after the meeting has concluded.
